ASSOCIATE
PASTOR
REV. MATT CECIL

Examine yourselves to see if you are in the faith. Test yourselves. Don't you understand that Jesus Christ is in you? Unless, of course, you fail the test. But I hope that you will realize that we don't fail the test. We pray to God that you don't do anything wrong, not because we want to appear to pass the test but so that you might do the right thing, even if we appear to fail.

2 Corinthians 13:5-7

Have you been studying for the big test? The 'Are you a good-enough Christian test?' Admittedly, it might be a really important test. Paul tells us that we need to take it. But I suspect we have thought about this test wrong at some point. Sometimes we think about this test as judgement. Sometimes we think about this test as a comparison to our peers, other Christians. Sometimes we think about this test as a comparison to the giants of the faith, the saints that we have looked up to for decades, and we need to get the same perfect score that they surely would get. Have we done enough good works, attended enough Bible Studies, said enough kind words, listened to enough sermons, given to enough charities, etc.? We might beat ourselves up about this test. We guilt ourselves about it or find shame about what our score might be once we decide to take it.

People have been thinking about this test since the very beginning of the faith. But Paul has good news:

1. You can take the test whenever you are ready.
2. You can take it whenever you are ready, because you are the one that will administer it.
3. There is only one question on the test. And it is a yes or no question. "Is Jesus Christ in you?"
4. You are not responsible for answering that question. Christ is. And Christ answered joyfully and affirmatively a long time ago.

Paul reassures the church in Corinth that their faith is about Christ working in and through them even when mistakes are made. Not everything is going to be perfect or look perfect. We might not always appear to 'pass the test.' We might appear to fail, but as long as Christ has faith in us, even our failures will be made right. Paul shares all of this to encourage the Corinthian church 2,000 years ago, but it continues to be encouragement for us today. Christ has faith in you. You've already passed the test.

Grace & Peace,

Matt Cecil
Associate Pastor
