FROM THE PASTOR

SENIOR PASTOR
REV. RICK IVEY

"There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under the heavens:

a time to be born and a time to die,
a time to plant and a time to uproot,

a time to kill and a time to heal,
a time to tear down and a time to build,
a time to weep and a time to laugh,
a time to mourn and a time to dance,

a time to scatter stones and a time to gather them, a time to embrace and a time to refrain from embracing,
a time to search and a time to give up,
a time to keep and a time to throw away,
a time to tear and a time to mend,
a time to be silent and a time to speak,
a time to love and a time to hate,
a time for war and a time for peace."

(Ecclesiastes 3)

Maybe we think about the past and future too much. Planners tell us to think about yesterday, so we are ready for an uncertain future. They also tell us if we lack goals we will never live up to our full potential.

They are probably right, but I think it can be taken to extremes. Obsessing over the past may leave us feeling guilty or inadequate. Spending too much time planning for the future may keep us from being responsible for how we live today.

There is so much to be said for living faithfully one day at a time.

In Christ,

Julie's wish was that her brave battle would serve as a meaningful catalyst to educate other women about the risk and symptoms of the disease and help save their lives.
