Wesley BOOKWORMS

"The One-In-A-Million Boy" by Monica Wood is our Oct. 15 book, and if you haven't started it already, you might put it on your to-do list! The noon meeting will be at Chris Broussard's, and is a bring-your-own-lunch affair.

If you like to plan ahead, here's the info:

November 19: (NOTE CHANGE OF DATE FROM PREVIOUS POSTS!!!!!!!)

"The Engagements" by J. Courtney Sullivan.

December 17: "Winter Street" by Elin Hilderbrand, a shorter 200-page read in honor of the holiday rush. This is the first in her Winter series involving the Quinn family.

FROM THE | PASTOR

“So whether you eat or drink or whatever you do, do it all for the glory of God.”
1 Corinthians 10:31

What do you want? It's a question we get asked early on in life and are faced with daily. What do we want to eat, drink, wear, achieve, own, give, ask for?

If we pick the wrong things to want, our lives can go astray and end up in places we never imagined. Some of things we desire, we think we want but end up not liking in the end.

Paul, in his letter to the church in Corinth, cautions the early Christians to let their desires be shaped in the direction of giving God glory.

Instead of mindless indulgence or childish fantasies about having everything we desire, Paul instructs them to let God direct their desires in a whole new direction. He wants them to desire to bring God glory and to serve Christ in everything they do.

So what do you want most? What part of your life most needs God's guidance so that you can bring God glory?

A few notes:

- Our children's program is doing great we had 40 kids on Sunday.
- Pumpkins are here! We have another unload scheduled on 10/13 and could use your help.
- Our next sermon series "Practice Makes Perfect" begins on 10/20
- We would love to have you serve in some way at a weekend worship service!

In Christ
Rev. Rick Ivey
